Spelling Bee Champs!

Congratulations to 7th grader, Isaac Webb and 5th grader, Michaela White, who will be representing BHCS at the Hancock County Spelling Bee at the Ellsworth Middle School on Tuesday, January 31 at 6:30 PM. At our BHCS Spelling Bee, Isaac placed first, Michaela placed second, and Kessler Parrott in 6th grade placed 3rd and will be our alternate. Good job, good spellers!

We need some input!

We are considering providing an activity bus for students who stay after school for study hall, clubs, music practices, intramurals, etc. Our hope would be to provide transportation for children whose parents work and cannot get them to and from after school activities. We want to make sure all kids get to take advantage of all our programs. We really need to find out from you before we make this financial commitment, if your child would use this bus. It would be a bus that would leave BHCS at 3:30 PM and deliver children home to different sections of town. It could mean a long ride for the child who lives a long distance from school when the bus starts a route at the other end of town. We do not know which route the bus would go until we know who will ride the bus on different occasions. But, we want to hear from you if you think this is a good idea. Please email me (delmar@bhcs.org) when you get your online Exploration newsletter, or detach the slip at the bottom of your paper Exploration.

Garden Club News

by Ben Snow

Today we cut open milk jugs and we filled the bottom with dirt and seeds. The whole group planted the same kind of seed. Then we put in the dirt and the seeds. We took pieces of tape and put it around the jug. We took them outside and watered them, and left them out there (this is called winter sowing) and came inside for another activity. In milk boxes we put dirt and on the dirt we put seeds and then we had to put them on a blue tray. The seeds were called cat grass (really wheat grass). These will stay inside on Miss Nelson's window sill. The last thing we did was that we looked in a seed magazine with seeds and tools, too. We all got our own Johnny Seed Catalog. We came back together and shared what we thought we should plant in the garden.

Library News

Monday, Jan. 23, was a special day in the library world -- the announcement of this year's book awards from the American Library Association. In an interesting turn of events, Sylvia Burns donated Balloons Over Broadway by Maine author/illustrator Melissa Sweet in honor of her birthday just minutes before it was announced as this year's Siebert Award winner given to the best informational book for children! Thanks, Sylvia, for remembering the library for your birthday. It is even autographed to BHCS! Thanks also to Lou Wilson for donating some American Girl books!

Reminder – Students need to be dressed appropriately for the winter weather. We realize that temperatures have varied this winter, but as the old saying goes, “If you don’t like the weather in Maine, just wait a minute.” Temperatures can vary greatly from morning to night, so please suit your child up for cold weather. Thank you.
