BHCS Cares

I can't believe that we have reached the end of another school year. I wanted to take a moment to revisit our year long, school wide theme: BHCS Cares. We've focused on ways that we can care for ourselves, our community, and our environment through activities, assemblies, fundraisers, and more. I love the end of the year because it's a time of reflection, and I am just so proud of our school community and how caring our students and staff really are.

For the months of May and June our school participated in many community service projects. We focused on "BHCS cares for the community" and each grade level did something, including planting flowers for the boxes on the bridge for Memorial Day, the Walk for Water, and working on the gardens and bird blind at BHCS. Our final days of school next week we will remind students about taking care of themselves by getting lots of exercise!

It's a privilege for each of us to have the opportunity to work with your children every day. Have a lovely summer!

Warmly,
Shelly

First Grade made milkweed bombs and launched them around the school and downtown in hopes of growing milkweed plants. Chrissy Allen did this project with us and Leslie Clapp joined us to show us some birds nests as well.

Choice-Based Specials

Wednesday morning the students in grades 6&7 had an opportunity to hear about the choice-based specials that will be offered for the first trimester next year. Each student received a form that needs to be completed, signed by a parent, and returned to school by the end of the year. While every effort is made to honor first choice picks, it is important to also indicate other specials that are of interest in case there is no room in the first choice. It will be an exciting year of enriching activities as students explore the humanities with the specialist team.

Summer Slide

“Summer can be a season full of learning opportunities... or learning losses. Research confirms that students who don’t read over the summer typically score lower on reading comprehension tests when they return to school. Many teachers agree that every fall, they can see the results of the summer slide.”
-Scholastic.com

This is our annual, friendly reminder to help your child to keep learning over the summer! Some easy ways to do this are: find books that your child enjoys and set aside time each day to read; read aloud to your child; find educational apps (ask your child’s teacher for recommendations if you’d like); have your child keep a journal; use flash cards or xtramath.com to practice math facts.

End-of-Year Events

As we approach the end of the school year, there are some special events planned for the entire BHCS community.

Monday, June 19 we will be wrapping up our BHCS Cares theme with a schoolwide hike up Blue Hill Mountain. Different groups will be taking different paths up the mountain that are age-appropriate. Students will need sturdy shoes, long pants, their Autism Awareness t-shirts, and, if possible, a water bottle for students in first through seventh grade. We will meet for a whole school picture and a song!

The last day of school, June 20, we start the morning with Step-Up Day. This is a BHCS tradition where students are given an opportunity to see their classrooms for the next year and meet their teachers. Then in the afternoon, the seventh grade students and middle school teachers will be supervising field day.
